

PASSING OF THE BROOKLYN BOSS

His Hold on the Machine Broken Through Following Bad Advice, Hugh McLaughlin Now Seems an Object of Pity.

TURN DOWN BY MCLELLAN A FINAL CRUSHING BLOW.

Shea, Shevlin and York Are Declared Responsible for His Downfall, While McCarren's Power Is Constantly Growing.

The appearance of the motion room wherein Hugh McLaughlin has made his headquarters for more than a generation to-day resembled the loser's corner in a prize fight. After the fight, when the Adol of the hour has been licked, the loser's corner is the saddest place on earth. There is nothing worse except the corners of two losers. McLaughlin's headquarters now have the appearance of a loser's corner, with his second gone.

There isn't any anger against McLaughlin in Brooklyn—there is pity. McLaughlin's race has been run. Seventy-seven years old, peevish, the old man is not the man to lead a fight or give counsel to the men who would lead it. McLaughlin is a leader because no one runs the board to take from him the title any more than they would like to take from some little girl a doll that she had played with ever since she could remember.

No Fight on McLaughlin.

The fight that has been made against Willoughby street by Senator McCarren for the indorsement of the whole Democratic ticket has not been against McLaughlin but against the men who surround him, to whose counsel he has listened and who are relied upon to run a campaign. They are James Shevlin, John B. Shea, John McCarthy, Barney York, Tom Farrell and others. Upon the shoulders of one of these men must fall in time the mantle of McLaughlin unless there comes forward some man strong enough to take it from them.

From the beginning McLaughlin, who seeks no one, who does not keep in touch with the sentiment, but whose whole dealing with all situations is through one or more of the men who surround him, has been badly advised. It was decided in the first place, that McLaughlin should give out an interview as to the nominations before they had been made. He knew at that time that the delegates of Tammany if Murphy held them together would be sufficient to nominate any man Murphy desired to run. A man who wrote the interview, it was read to McLaughlin and it sounded well. It started with a complimentary word about the party and then it was decided to nominate Murphy. Then Murphy, Tweed and Croker were put in the political atmosphere of Willoughby street has been so thick that no one could see through it.

Changed Front Again.

Then followed the refusal to name a Congressman and President of the Board of Aldermen. McLaughlin was advised to stand pat, and Murphy gained the seat, although the name of McLaughlin, after having refused to eat his pie, was used to nominate Groat and Fumes, put forth men on the floor of the convention for the places he had refused to accept. In the convention he was fighting on the floor for the places at which he turned his back ten days before—all due to the stories brought to him and the advice given by his political henchmen.

Following this in the hope that a bolt might make Groat and Fumes withdraw, he listened to the stories of the men who surrounded him and agreed to the bolt. If a crowd of men had surrounded the Boss and conspired to pull down the Boss upon him, they could not have laid out a surer plan to humiliate him and wreck his career.

The result was the refusal of the men who were strong in their districts to carry the bolt. Men like Shea, Shevlin and York and others who do not carry districts, but represent a minority or a Democratic faction in heavy Republican districts, had no district leadership to lose. They could afford to be considered as bolting a ticket, but men who had fought to hold districts and who had organizations that insisted upon being in line could not do so. A bolt to repudiate candidates nominated in a convention the political ethics of which they had sworn to support. They had voted for a candidate before the convention. He had been beaten. They argued that as parties to the convention they should abide by the result.

Gave McCarren Opportunity.

McLaughlin, peevish, beaten and balked for the first time in his life, resigned the office of President of the Board of Aldermen and the organization of the district leaders under McCarren began. It did not begin to move until McLaughlin had talked with McLaughlin and had tried to reason with the old man. While McCarren reasoned one way, Shevlin, York, Shea and others reasoned another. They saw in McCarren's refusal to go with them a "regular" for McCarren. After a couple of talks McCarren left the auction room.

McCarren went to work in the districts. His first idea was that a majority of the Executive Committee could be obtained, but the office members who have a vote were too strong. McLaughlin sat in the auction room and listened to the talk of the men who surrounded him. In time he denounced McCarren. He made men remember, although he did not say so, that McCarren, barring natural ability, owed all to him. McCarren was held up as an ingrate. Still he was "regular." Upon him had been placed the stamp of "regularity," while there was only sordidness about the others.

In less than a week McCarren has cut the ground from under McLaughlin. Into a majority of the districts McCarren has come or he has sent some one. In all there is a sentiment that demands the overthrow of the present machine. The Senator from Williamsburg has forced district leader after leader to resign to him. His only hope is the political mecca. He has forced a call for a meeting of the County Committee, a sovereign power of the Democracy of Kings County.

To Reorganize the Committee. At this meeting there will be a reorganization of the Campaign Committee. Men who are "regular" will be placed in charge of the campaign. A campaign committee will be named by McLaughlin, the Boss of Kings County. McLaughlin must subscribe to the rules laid down by him. They will not be his rules.

him. They were greeted pleasantly and stated their mission. "Do I understand that this is a meeting to ratify the selection of all candidates named at the Democratic City Convention?" inquired Mr. McLaughlin. "All except Mr. Groat and Mr. Fumes," replied Mr. Shea. "Then as a gentleman and a Democrat," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I must decline. The basic principle of democracy is that the candidates chosen by the regular convention shall be the candidates of the party." Mr. Shea turned red, bowed and withdrew. On the way out he met Leader Murphy and Congressman O. H. P. Belmont. They gave him an indifferent glance in reply to his nod, and Shea and his associates returned to Willoughby street. There to McLaughlin they told the story. He told him that the indorsement of their organization had been refused by the candidate for Mayor on the score that it wasn't regular. McLaughlin, boss of Kings County for fifty years, old and white-haired, for the first time was brought face to face with the situation as the majority of the Democratic of Brooklyn see it. About him stood the men who have advised him in the present campaign. In the outer room were half a dozen reporters eating peanuts. No district leaders were coming and going from the room. None were about save these bad advisers. The place was the "loser's corner." A few blocks away, across the plaza, in Court street, where the principal address, and if McLaughlin ever was to realize that perhaps all the advice he had received was not for the best it was when he received the reply of McLaughlin. McLaughlin will be the leader of Kings County until he dies. The men who have advised him in the future will be the men who will advise him in the future. The man who will advise McLaughlin in the future when the angle is straightened out will be the man who is hailed as the new boss of Kings County—Patrick Henry McCarren.

BOLT SHEEHAN AND DECLARE FOR LOW

Three Arrests Were Made at a Meeting of the G. N. Y. D. in Eighteenth District Before Vote Was Taken.

Three men were arrested in a turbulent meeting of the remnants of the Greater New York Democracy, held in the Eighteenth Assembly District last night. The meeting, indorsed both Low and condemned the action of John C. Sheehan in surrendering to Tammany Hall. Citizens' Union emissaries dominated the meeting. Water Register Robert A. Kelley, a member of the Citizens' Union, made the principal address, and E. F. Bliss, of the Citizens' Union, conducted the arrests. The following resolutions were adopted: "Resolved, We hereby protest against any such action by any person to deliver from Tammany Hall any political party without the consent of the members thereof. "Resolved, That we, as an organization of the Greater New York Democracy of the Eighteenth Assembly District, do indorse for Mayor, Seth Low."

SOCIETY WOMAN TO RUN.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 15.—Democratic delegates in the City Convention have nominated Mrs. Winthrop Chanler, a society woman, for a position on the School Board. The Democrats nominated Mr. Victor Soriano six years ago for membership on the School Board. She was elected and has made a very efficient member.

Mr. Chanler, husband of the nominee, is a Democrat, but is a close friend of President Roosevelt, whom he entertained here two years ago. The Chanler family has long been identified with Newport. Mr. Chanler owns a villa on the cliffs here.

"I Grow Hair In One Night."

Famous Doctor-Chemist Has Discovered a Secret Compound That Grows Hair on Any Bald Head.

His Startling Announcement, Accompanied by Absolute Proof of Wonderful Cures, Causes Doctors to Marvel and Stand Dumfounded.

The Discoverer Sends Free Trial Packages of Foso to All Who Write.

After half a century spent in the laboratory, crowned with high honors for his many world-famous discoveries, the celebrated physician-chemist at the head of the Great Altemheim Medical Dispensary has just made the startling announcement that he has produced a compound that grows hair on any bald head. The doctor makes the claim that after experiments, taking years to complete, he has at last reached the goal of his ambition. To the doctor, the heads are alike. There are none which cannot be cured by his remarkable Foso Remedy. The record of the cure already made is truly marvellous, and were it not for the high standing of the great physician and the convincing testimony of thousands of citizens all over the country it would seem too miraculous to be true.

There can be no doubt of the doctor's honesty in making his claims, nor can his cures be disputed. He does not ask any man, woman or child to take his or anyone else's word for it, but he stands ready and willing to send free trial packages of Foso hair restorative to any one who writes to him for it, enclosing a two-cent stamp in prepay postage. In a single night Foso has started hair to growing on heads bald for years. It has stopped falling hair in one hour. It never fails, no matter what the condition, age or sex. Old men and young men, women and children, all have profited by the free use of this great new discovery. If you are bald, if your hair is falling out, or if your hair, eyebrows or eyelashes are thin or short, write the Altemheim Medical Dispensary, 231 Foso Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, enclosing a two-cent stamp to prepay postage for a free package, and in a short time your hair will be entirely restored.

Men's Clothing

These are excellent Suits for business wear—to don when travelling—for all kinds of general knockabout service. There are single- and double-breasted styles in about equal numbers. They are made of firm, closely-woven worsteds and chevots in the stripes, checks, plaids and overplaids of the day. Their foundations—lining, cutting and tailoring—are just as you would have them.

The price—$12.96—completes the attractive combination. And the Suits at $14.96! They, too, are meritorious. Three- and four-button single- and three-button double-breasted models. Materials are high-class, representing all the popular winter weaves—chevots, tweeds, cassimeres, worsteds and meltons. Place any of them alongside of the Suits that are sold elsewhere at $20.00. We rest our claim upon your judgment.

After the foregoing come the gentlemanly Suits at $20.96, $22.96, $24.96 and $25.49—ready-to-wear—as perfect as assiduous and skilful tailors create.

We have a complete stock of Prince Albert Coats-and-Vests, Full Dress and Tuxedo Suits at prices that are not approached elsewhere, qualities considered.

Nine men out of ten are getting into nobby Top Coats made of tan or olive covert or Venetian cloth—31, 32 and 34 inches long—selection of length controlled by buyer's height. They are lined with silk, the finish of each garment is scrupulously correct—$14.96 to $24.96.

Did last week's deluge suggest a Cravenette Rain Coat? Here they are—$14.96 to $22.96—plain or fancy weaves in grays and tans. Plenty storms are left.

Men's Top Coats

Copies of all the newest blocks—including the "narrow brim" effects that the swell Hatters are selling. The stock is selected fur felt, silk bands and bindings, soft kid leather sweat.

Our Derbies and Alpines at $2.49 and $3.49 represent values that are relatively great.

$2.50 Derbies at $1.88

$2.50 Alpines at $1.88

All the popular shapes and colors—every crown height and brim width. Made of splendid fur felt, and nearly all are finished with the "Boss" hand-made raw edge—silk bands, kid leather sweat.

Boys' Clothing

We urge you to examine the Boys' Clothing offered by other stores. Look at the garments carefully, critically. Those stores that sell the best qualities have Suits just like ours. Frequently all are from the same source.

A Suit here and one elsewhere may be just as alike as two eggs—but the prices vary. Ours are always less. For example:

Boys' Reefers, made of heavy blue chevot and blue or Oxford gray frieze, embroidered emblem on sleeve, lined with flannel, sold by others at $5.50; our price, $4.49.

Boys' Two-piece Double-breasted and Norfolk Suits, including extra pair of trousers, made of choice chevots and cassimeres, sold by others at $4.50; our price, $3.69.

Hunting Clothing.

Canvas Hunting Coats, reinforced over shoulders, corduroy collar, storm cuffs, large game pocket and seven small outside pockets, $1.49; made of the best quality waterproofed canvas, $2.24.

Waterproof Pantosote Hunting Coats, corduroy collar, storm cuffs, lined throughout with canvas, large game pocket and five small outside pockets, $4.38.

Corduroy Hunting Coats—large game pockets and four outside pockets, lined throughout with canvas, $2.98.

Corduroy Hunting Coats, storm cuffs and seven outside pockets, lined throughout with canvas, well made and finished, $3.98.

Canvas Hunting Pants, $1.19; Corduroy, $2.89 and $3.89; Pantosote, $4.09.

Corduroy Shell Vests, $2.69; canvas, 98c.

Hunting Caps, with double peaks, made of canvas, 29c.; corduroy, 74c.

Shell Belts, made of canvas, 21c.; leather, 54c. and 64c.

Guns.

"Ithaca" Hammerless Guns, 12 gauge—imported nitro steel barrels—nitro brecht of double thickness—reinforced frame and stock fastening, narrow skeleton rib; sold elsewhere at $25.00; our price, $20.98.

Double Hammer Guns, Belgian make, 12 gauge, figured twist barrels, extension rib, top action, pistol grip, circular rebounding hammers, sold elsewhere at $12.00; our price, $9.19.

"Acme" Single Breech-Loading Guns, 12 gauge, nitro-steel barrels, top action, rubber butt, case-hardened frame, take-down action, sold elsewhere at $5.00; our price, $2.98.

"Marchioness" Black Silks.

The Macy "Marchioness" Black Silks are the products of a maker whose goods have been standards of quality for a quarter of a century. Every weave is perfect. The Macy "Marchioness" Black Silks are warranted in the most liberal way. If they fail to give such service as may be reasonably expected you are free to return your purchase within six months and exchange it for the money paid. We couldn't afford to make such an offer unless we were sure beforehand that the wear of the Silks will be absolutely satisfactory.

For Appreciative Gentlemen.

For gentlemen who select Dress with taste—and thrift. We hope hundreds of just such buyers will respond to these offerings. Of course, the goods will be sold quickly enough, but we—for motives of self-interest—desire to get them into the hands of, other than careless shoppers. If you are an intelligent and discriminating customer you will largely enrich the reputation of the store that yields its patrons such values. If you are an indifferent and unthinking customer the items will fail at the very point that we consider most important.

"Custom Stock" Dress Shirts.

A new idea that should be investigated by men who have been paying from $4.00 to $5.00 for their Shirts made-to-order. We call them "Custom Stock," because while found in our regular stock they possess all the good features of costly custom products. Sizes range from 13 1/2 to 19—with varying chest measures for each neck-size and chest-measure. Special models for "regular," "short" and "stout" men. The system that governs the many combinations of measurements makes it easy for us to take the measure of almost any man and select a faultless fit for him. Fine linen bosoms, soft-finish, light-weight percale bodies, attached cuffs, coat shape. $2.24

$1.00 Stiff-bosomed Shirts at 69c.

Made of fine corded madras, small figures and neat stripes on white ground, open back and front, detached cuffs. Every one was meant to retail at $1.00.

Half Dozen Linen Collars for 49c.

Men's Linen Collars in all the popular shapes—dress styles, standing, wing and folded hand-banded turn down. The quality is equal to any and better than many of the widely advertised 25c. brands. Because of imperfections, so slight that they can scarcely be found, we will sell them in half dozen lots at 49c.

$1.00 and $1.50 Neckwear at 68c.

They are Four-in-hands—the ones that are long and of even width—made of remnants of silks that were used for the $1.00 and $1.50 Scarfs. There are plain colors, stripes and figures—the dawning season's newest effects—choice 68c.

Our regular Neckwear at 94c., $1.44 and $1.94 are great values.

Men's 50c. Suspenders at 24c.

24c. for Suspenders that can be safely adjusted without breaking their buckles, and that will wear a long time, are worth being quick for. They are made of strong lisle thread webbing, finished with nickel buckles and kid ends. Stripes and plain colors that will not rub off on your shirt. Others at 48c., 94c. and $1.44.

Clocks.

There are enough Clocks beneath this roof to fill a good-sized store. And every one of them is reliable. Clocks from three inches low to the overtopping ones eight to nine feet high.

Simple Little Clocks that merely measure time; ornate, intricate big Clocks that show the rising and setting of the sun, the phases of the moon—and indicate the year, month, day of month and of week. The list hints of the variety.

Alarm Clocks, Ansonia and New Haven movements, nickel cases, 63c. to $1.34.

Porcelain Clocks, artistically decorated, Ansonia eight-day movements, cathedral gongs striking on the half hour, $3.94 to $15.21.

Enamelled Iron Clocks, bronze and gilt trimmings, Ansonia and New Haven eight-day movements, cathedral gongs striking on the half hour, $9.41 to $27.79.

Gilt Clock Sets, finest French and American movements, scores of pretty and novel designs, $14.98 to $98.66.

Crystal Regulators, Ansonia, Gilbert and New Haven eight-day movements, cathedral gongs striking on the half hour; some have jeweled dials and some are mounted on onyx bases, $13.49 to $65.38.

The following Hall Clocks have fancy silvered dials, with gilt filigree work showing phases of the moon and days of the month:—

Hall Clocks, carved Flemish oak case, cathedral gongs striking on the half hour, $139.47.

Hall Clocks, carved mahogany case, tubular gongs striking on the half hour, $183.97.

Hall Clocks, plain mahogany case, cathedral gong and Westminster chimes striking on the half hour, $219.97.

Hall Clocks, carved mahogany case, cathedral gong striking on the half hour, $249.97.

Hall Clocks, carved Flemish oak case, cathedral gong and Westminster chimes striking on the half hour, $259.97.
